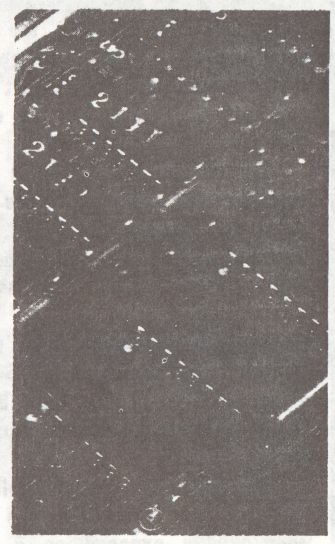
REBUILD BRITAIN NOW!



Britain was one of the first countries to develop the new microchip technology (above), but the Government has allowed the Japs to utilise our discoveries for their own ends and flood Britain with their products. Britain was once the world leader in car production, and the Rolls Royce (below) is still acknowledged as the best in the world — but again, the Government has allowed far Eastern imports to cripple our industry.

THE BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY is launching a campaign to rebuild Britain, to reverse the devastation caused by the old Establishment parties at Westminster. The aim of the campaign is to explain to the British people that there is a real alternative to industrial decay, mass immigration and soaring crime levels.

Unlike the official, tame 'opposition' parties, the BNP is not simply criticising the policies of the Tory Government (although that is easy enough!), but offering a genuine, positive alternative.

The Establishment parties like to dismiss us as 'extremists' — yet BNP policies are already being put into practice in one form or another by democratic governments all over the Western world.

REPATRIATION

Repatriation of immigrants is taking place at this very moment in countries such as Germany, France and Greece.

Strict import controls are already in force in countries such as Japan and Korea — which helps explain why those countries are thriving while our economy is in free-fall.

The BNP's tough policy on law and order, including restoration of capital punishment for murder and terrorism, is already being practised in countries such as the United States, where it has helped considerably reduce crime.

COMMON SENSE

The BNP believes Britain need never have another recession or mass unemployment if we go back to 'common sense' economics. We must restore trading links with the white Commonwealth, withdraw from the Common Market, and give state investment to mining, steel and shipbuilding, as well as the new 'high-tech' industries. Britain was once the 'workshop of the world' but the Establishment parties have allowed our key industries to be decimated by unfair competition from inferior far-Eastern goods made by 'coolie' labour.

With a BNP Government, we can make our country 'Great' again: Let's rebuild Britain now!

Britain has enough coal (below) to supply all our energy needs for the next 200 years — yet the Tories are closing down scores of pits and importing Polish coal! This crazy policy has put thousands of miners on the dole, and is making Britain dangerously dependent on foreign coal and oil imports. When the British National Party is in power, we will reverse the pit closure programme and reinvest in Britain's coal reserves. Not only will this give cheaper energy, but will provide tens of thousands of mining jobs.

REBUILD BRITAIN NOW!

The performance of the Tory government has been so appalling that it hardly needs any effort on the part of this newspaper to explain that fact to the public.

The economy has been in almost permanent recession since the Tories came to power in 1979, with unemployment never falling below a million even during the two-year 'boom' of the early 1980s.

The Conservatives have demonstrated their contempt for Britain's ability to defend her own borders with the latest vicious round of defence cuts.

The so-called `tough' policy on law and order favoured by the Tories was quickly exposed as a feeble sham. In today's Britain, a young man who rapes a 14-year-old schoolgirl can expect to receive the same 'punishment' — a £500 fine — as another man was given for throwing an empty crisp packet onto the street. We have seen killers, muggers and rapists walk free from court on a regular basis. Convicted murderers, rapists and psychopaths are now routinely released into the community to re-offend. Needless to say, the restoration of capital and corporal punishment, favoured by the BNP and the overwhelming majority of British people, is condemned as 'barbaric' by the Tories.

Last month John Major hung on for grim death after his government was defeated over the Maastricht Treaty. Here we have a perfect example of how 'democracy' works. Major's slimy bunch of gangsters offered every threat, bribe and backroom deal they could to strong-arm Parliament into voting to finally end Britain's sovereignty. When, after all this, Major still lost the vote, it was announced that the Treaty would be ratified anyway, despite the overwhelming opposition of the British people.

It is now up to the British National Party to fill the political vacuum left by the Government and its tame official 'opposition' parties.

We need to explain to the public that there is a genuine alternative to the current appalling political system.

Our new campaign, 'Let's rebuild Britain' will tell the people what life would be like under a BNP government.

Britain would no longer be haunted by permanent mass unemployment, as import controls and repatriation of immigrants would create millions of new jobs. There would no longer be any need for recessions, as we would abandon the debt-based economy in favour of productive capital.

The white Commonwealth, that great family of nations of British stock, would be strengthened through renewed trade links, so that the whole shabby charade of the Common Market can be abandoned.

Our young people can be given decent, healthy pursuits and a new pride in their British and European cultural heritage instead of the moronic diet of jungle music and drugs with which the Tories prefer to feed them.

Our women and old folk will once again be able to walk the streets without fear, as we reintroduce the tough penalties which kept Britain virtually crime-free before the age of liberalism.

We must tell the people: Only a BNP government can rebuild Britain.

CASTRATE RAPISTS!

RAPE is one of the worst crimes imaginable — and the public are overwhelmingly behind the British National Party's call for the surgical castration of vicious rapists.

Recent examples of this revolting crime have been particularly sickening.

Earlier this year, a screaming two year-old boy watched as his granny was raped in a park by a teenage thug.

SEX-ATTACKER

The woman had been looking after her grandson while her daughter was at work. She thought Waterloo Park, Norwich, was a safe enough area in broad daylight, but was proved tragically wrong when the sex-attacker pounced.

In an even more sickening incident only a few weeks ago, a girl of 12 was raped at knifepoint by a man who tricked his way into her home by pretending to be a decorator.

The attack took place in broad daylight at a quiet residential area of Stockport, only minutes after the girl arrived home from school.

HARROWING ORDEAL

Despite the harrowing ordeal faced by the victims of sex-attackers, it seems our Tory judges just will not take rape seriously. British Nationalist recently reported the release of Martin McCall, one of a gang of thugs who broke into an Ealing vicarage and raped the virgin daughter of the vicar.

While McCall walks free to enjoy the rest of his life, his victim must suffer the emotional scars for the rest of her days.

SEX FIEND Karl Gambrill (above) walked free

ARROGANT Judge Ian Starforth Hill (above) deserves to be sacked — how would he like it if HIS grand-daughter was raped?

Only last month, Judge Ian Starforth Hill freed sex-attacker Karl Gambrill who had attempted to have sex with an eight-year-old girl in his care. Judge remarked that the eight-year-old girl was ''no angel'' herself.

British women are increasingly aware that only the British National Party's tough policy on rape can prevent further attacks.

Only castration can guarantee that a rapist will never re-offend.

Labour fat cats stalked by 'equality' militants

DON'T BOTHER VOTING LABOUR UNLESS YOU'RE BLACK, GAY OR LESBIAN

LABOUR'S black militants last month demanded that only black or Asian candidates should be allowed to stand in constituencies where 15 per cent of voters are non-white.

This would mean getting rid of 43 MPs, including deputy leader Margaret Beckett and four other Labour front-benchers.

HIT LIST

Labour's black section has a hit-list of 75 seats, and at the launch of its campaign in Westminster, the group said it was aiming for political power ''to defeat racism.''

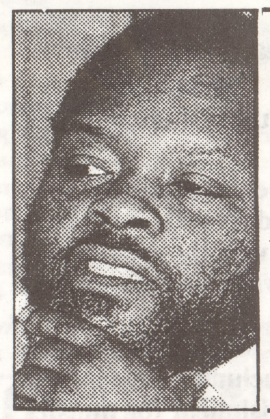
White MPs who would be axed under the scheme include Harriet Harman, Frank Dobson, Jack Straw, Roy Hattersley and Peter Shore.

The Secretary of the black section, Rashmi Chopra, demanded that half of the proposed black MPs should be women, claiming: ''White women in the party don't give us any recognition.''

WOMEN ONLY

The bizarre plan to purge white MPs from Labour was followed by an equally weird policy, officially adopted by the party, to introduce women-only shortlists in 50 per cent of constituencies.

'Political Correctness' has been taken to its ultimate, crazy conclusion. It only remains now for Labour to set a quota on queers and lesbians— though many would say that the party already has more than its fair share of those! Once again, the Labour Party is proving how out of touch it is with ordinary British folk.



BERNIE Grant MP (left) would keep his seat on the grounds that he is black

DIANE Abbott MP (right) is even more fortunate, in being both black and female

Greece to expel 40,000 muslims

Proving repatriation IS a viable option

GREECE is repatriating Muslim immigrants (above)

THE GREEK Government has announced that it will forcibly repatriate 40,000 Albanian muslims who have entered the country illegally.

INFILTRATING

Greece has already expelled almost thirteen thousand Albanians, who have been infiltrating across the Greek border in a bid for lucrative jobs and social security benefits.

Meanwhile, France has also been forced to tighten immigration controls under pressure from the recent electoral success of the Front National. A 'zero immigration' clampdown has been announced, to the approval of the French people.

Expulsion orders are currently running at 30,000 a year, but are seldom enforced. The new measures announced by the French government have, however, been slammed by nationalists as too weak — there are already 4.5 million legal immigrants in France, and an estimated two million illegals.

TOUGH RESPONSE

The increasingly tough response by European governments against immigration has exposed Britain's failure to act. Governments such as Greece and Germany, both of whom have expelled tens of thousands of unwanted migrants, have given the lie to the old chestnut that ''repatriation is impractical.''

British people are increasingly asking: ''If repatriation works for them, why can't it work for us?''

WHITE SOUTH AFRICA IN CRISIS

British kinfolk facing rape and extermination by ANC murder gangs

SOUTH AFRICA'S Afrikaner Resistance Movement launched a daring military action against the Terrorist ANC's so-called 'Democracy' talks recently. More and more whites are arming themselves in anticipation of the race-war blood-bath which could end in a white homeland — or white extermination

SOUTH Africa's whites are finally waking up to the fact that their country is about to be taken over by the marxist ANC.

For the past few months, a kind of paralysis overtook whites, as traitor F.W.de Klerk steadily began handing over power to Nelson Mandela's murder gangs.

DISBELIEF

From outside South Africa, the world looked with growing disbelief as the white population apathetically allowed de Klerk to push forward his plan for black rule. Whites even voted 'yes' to de Klerk's so-called 'reform' of the electoral system, which was a thinly-veiled plan to hand over power to Mandela.

For those with inside knowledge of South Africa, this apparent racial suicide bid by the Volk was in fact not quite so surprising as it appeared to the outside world.

Just as in Britain and other Western nations, the 'multi-racial' ideal is being pushed by South Africa's controlled press for all it is worth. Whites were warned that unless they ended Apartheid, South Africa's economy would immediately collapse under renewed world sanctions and there would be civil war as frustrated blacks took to the streets.

Many individual whites were theatened with dismissal by their employers if they voted against de Klerk's plan.

INTIMIDATION

By a combination of terrifying propaganda and intimidation, South African whites were persuaded that black rule would not be so bad after all, and moreover, that if they were to oppose it, the repercussions would be too terrible to contemplate.

Little wonder, then, that they were eventually brow-beaten into saying 'yes' to suicide.

But that was then. Since the 'yes' vote last year, South Africa has had a taste of what life under ANC rule will be like. Law and order has broken down in the cities and rural areas, forcing citizens to arm themselves to the teeth. The ANC's slogan is 'one settler, one bullet' — leaving no doubt as to the fate of white farmers in the countryside. Growing numbers of farmsteads are being attacked, with families being raped and slaughtered in savage orgies of violence.

The fact that large numbers of white South Africans are of British origin is of particular concern to us.

South Africa's cities, once virtually crime-free, are no longer safe since the rescinding of the pass laws.

TRIBAL WARFARE

Not only is there now conflict between black and white, but tribal warfare between blacks themselves has run out of control, with massacres of women and children now almost a daily phenomenon. South Africa's blacks had the highest standard of living in black Africa under Apartheid. In many cases they were even allowed their own self-governing tribal homelands, subsidised by the South African government.

Now the whole country is plunged into chaos.

But last month, militant whites belonging to the AWB (Afrikaner Resistance Movement) and Conservative Party finally showed that they weren't going to take the loss of their country lying down.

TERRORISTS

As Mandela, and sundry other terrorists were junketing in the plush surroundings of the so-called 'negotiating centre' in Johannesburg, their peace was abruptly shattered when an armoured car entered via the plate-glass window of the building.

A heavily-armed unit of the AWB stormed the building and physically smashed the meeting.

It was a brave action, and no mere show of bravado — the Resistance movement has demonstrated to de Klerk, Mandela and co that if it comes to civil war, whites may be in a minority but they are heavily armed and more than willing to defend themselves.

It is significant that the police who were present offered no discouragement to the AWB protestors, and in many cases actually joined them.

ALLIANCE

It seems that the white Nationalists in South Africa have finally got their act together, with an alliance of Eugene Terre Blanche's AWB and the Conservative Party led by General Constand Viljoen.

Time will tell whether this alliance can hold together long enough for whites to establish their own state, or whether, as in Rhodesia, the whites will be annihilated.

Why Britain's economy is sliding right down the pan

The spivs who profit from debt-based system

BRITAIN has a brand new 'Hunger Chancellor', in the not-very-convincing shape of Kenneth Clarke.

The Chancellor may have changed, but the Tories' economic policies certainly haven't.

The Conservatives are still maintaining a heavily debt-based economy, to enable the (mainly foreign) spivs and percentage-boys whose interests they represent to swipe a fast buck at the expense of ordinary British folk.

FINANCE spiv George Soros made a billion dollars at our expense on Black Wednesday. Do we need such parasites?

Few of these characters actually produce anything of value — they are mostly middle-men, merchants and speculators who can win (or lose) millions in front of a flickering computer screen.

Men like George Soros, the 'Hungarian' who made over a billion dollars at the Bank of England's expense when Sterling collapsed on Black Wednesday.

Then there are middle-men like Gerald Ratner, the Thatcherite Wunderkind of the 1980s whose company ended up with debts of £266m. Last November, Ratner agreed to leave the company founded by his father — taking a £375,000 golden handshake.

IF ONLY Herr Ratner would pull the trigger and do us all a favour!

HARRY Goodman is typical of the selfish spivs admired by the Tories. His company went bust owing £400m

Another favourite of Tory free marketeers was package tour tycoon Harry Goodman. After his International Leisure Group collapsed with debts of £400million and 3,500 job losses, Gutman joined Riva Travel as a consultant. In February this year, Riva went bust leaving 500 holiday-makers stranded abroad.

INGLORIOUS

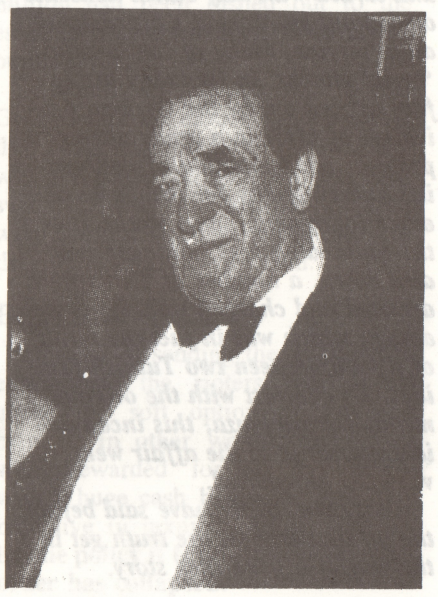
Last but not least, we should remember the inglorious career of one Mr 'Robert Maxwell' (Jan Ludvik Hoch), whose dealings are still the subject of court proceedings even after his death.

These then, are the kind of men whom the Tories believe will 'lead the recovery' from recession. Yet the truth is, that the antics of speculators such as those mentioned above are the very last thing that Britain needs, at a time when our balance of payments deficit stands at £168 billion. Their behind-the-scenes deals are designed purely for their own profit — they don't give a damn about what is best for Britain.

Until we have a debt-free economy, Britain will not even be able to service the interest on the huge deficit created by Tory mismanagement, and we will remain in the thrall of alien money-lenders.

TORY fat-cat Kenneth Clarke (above) is our new Hunger Chancellor. His period in office will be as disastrous as that of his predecessor unless he gets rid of the spivs and parasites who are currently ruining our economy.

FAT CROOK 'Robert Maxwell' (below) was another favourite of the corrupt Tory and labour Establishment

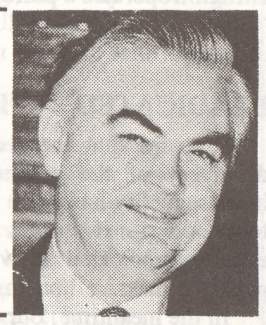


Ex-Hunger Chancellor will scoop top City job

SACKED Chancellor Norman Lamont may have been a disastrous failure at running the country's economy, but his economic contacts and political influence will almost certainly earn him a top job in the City — perhaps commanding a salary of £300,000.

Former Chancellors are always in big demand with City firms, thanks to their up-to-date knowledge of what is likely to happen next in home and foreign governments, and the high-level phone-numbers in their contacts book.

HUNGER Chancellor Lamont will make a nice fat profit from his days at No.10, thanks to his City friends



ECONOMIC MISERY

For those of us (over four million) who have been thrown on to the dole or had our homes repossessed, it is a comforting thought that the man who helped cause Britain's economic misery won't go short of a crust himself.

But then, the Tories and their international backers always did look after their own.

SLAUGHTERED BY A SAVAGE PSYCHOPATH

Tragedy of young graduate murdered by a violent mental patient who should never have been allowed into Britain

ERHI INWEH was regarded as a loner at school in Nigeria. When she came to Britain, aged 16, she soon developed signs of serious mental illness.

In early July 1991 she was detained in a mental hospital for her own protection after being found lying in the street. Just a few days later, on 14th July, Inweh used a pair of scissors to attack a fellow patient on her ward.

Despite this violent incident, Inweh was later sent to a non-secure hostel in Kingston-upon-Thames, run by the charity MIND. The hostel was meant to house non-violent mental patients, but the authorities there were not told of Inweh's dangerous behaviour.

PSYCHO killer Erhi Inweh was let loose upon the British public despite her history of violence

VICTIM Katie Sullivan paid the price of the Tories' feeble law and order stance. She was slaughtered by a 'human time-bomb' who should never have been freed

HALLUCINATING

One of the voluntary helpers at the Kingston hostel was pretty 23-year-old graduate Katie Sullivan. Katie had felt sorry for the schizophrenic Inweh and had befriended her. But on 30th October last year, Inweh began hallucinating that Katie was going to kill her. She therefore decided to kill Katie. Inweh entered the kitchen where Katie was washing up, grabbed a knife and began repeatedly stabbing her.

A patient heard Katie's screams and ran to alert the manager of the hostel. But it was too late; the weapon had pierced Katie's heart, liver and lungs.

Erhi Inweh was found not guilty of murder by reason of insanity, and sent to Broadmoor.

Katie Sullivan's parents at first had thought that their daughter had died by a million-to-one chance, by being in the 'wrong place at the wrong time'.

MISTAKES

But after learning the full details of the case, Katie's father said: ''Now we know it could have been prevented. That patient should never have been released into the community. Katie paid the price for other people's mistakes.''

Katie's parents feel bitter that the medical authorities made a series of blunders which led to Inweh, described as a 'human timebomb', being released. Firstly, the hostel staff were not told of Inweh's violent background, and secondly, Inweh had been allowed to refuse to take her medication. This is yet another example of the Government's callous disregard for the safety of the British public.

Gun-toting 'Yardies' bring terror to British streets

JAMAICAN DRUG WARS NOW ESCALATING

ARMED Police were called to quell a shoot-out at a Jamaican reggae concert in Hammersmith. Such shootings are becoming more and more frequent on the streets of Britain

A JAMAICAN gangster shot dead in south London was hit by bullets from at least three weapons, according to Scotland Yard sources.

The murder is believed to have been the result of a feud between rival black drug gangs, and police fear further reprisals.

CRACK TRADE

The victim of the latest incident was Christopher Bourne, 34, who was gunned down on Vassall Road, Brixton. Police believe Bourne was a 'Yardie' and his killers were competitors in the multi-million pound crack cocaine trade.

Bourne was an immigrant who had a long criminal record and had already been deported from Britain before re-entering illegally. His death will be mourned by very few people in Britain.

David Edwards, a 26-year-old man of Jamaican extraction, was killed in similar circumstances the previous Saturday on the steps of his Norwood home. It is believed there may be a Yardie connection to this killing.

VIOLENT CRIMINALS

The Yardies are a loose federation of violent criminals who are among the most dangerous in Britain. Almost all Jamaican-born, they smuggle cocaine into Britain via Jamaica and the US, normally using women as couriers.

The profits are enormous, once the cocaine has been converted to crack. A single kilogramme bought in the US for £10,000 could fetch £800,000 on the streets of London, Manchester, Birmingham, Bristol and other British cities.

In a separate incident last April, gunmen opened fire in a crowded black disco in London's Hammersmith.

REGGAE CONCERT

A Jamaican reggae concert at the Le Palais club exploded into violence as shots were fired apparently randomly into the mob.

The trouble began at around 8pm as a 5,000-strong mob milled around the dance hall, which has a capacity of only 2,300. The mob hurled bottles, bricks and CS canisters at police who were called to disperse them.

Following the shooting, hundreds of police, many armed, were called to the scene, but were unable to arrest the gunmen for fear of triggering a race-riot.

Police said the shootings appeared to copy a similar incident in Bristol's notorious St.Paul's area which also occurred at a reggae concert, at the so-called 'Malcolm X Centre'.

These are the kind of people the Tories allow to operate in Britain.

Germany pays the tragic price of immigration

FOLLOWING the widely publicised arson attack on a Turkish-occupied house in Sollingen, Germany, the world's press whipped up a chorus of schlock-horror 'Nazis under the bed' reports. Meanwhile, Germany's domestic communist agitators lost no time in stirring up the huge Turkish immigrant community into a frenzy of race-rioting and looting (right) in 'protest' at the deaths of three Turks in the fire.

The truth, as always, was twisted and larded with half-baked nonsense dished out by Mossad's disinformation service. Many of the so-called 'racial attacks' in Germany are in fact carried out by the German equivalent of MI5, in a crude attempt to promote condemnation of nationalists and sympathy for the Turks and other foreigners. Some weeks after the hullabaloo over Sollingen had died down, a number of Turks were arrested and charged with the arson attack, which was in fact the result of a feud between two Turkish families. By contrast with the original media extravaganza, this inconvenient postscript to the affair went virtually unreported.

But then, as we have said before, the media never let the truth get in the way of a good race story.

TURKISH and communist mobs went on the rampage following 'racist' arson attacks

QUEERS ON TOP!

Commie council gives poofs and lesbians priority housing

LABOUR controlled Islington council in North London is pushing 'harassed' lesbian and queer council tenants to the front of the rehousing queue.

Outraged rate-payers have slammed the scheme as 'crazy' and a 'queue-jumpers' charter', but the extreme left-wing council is ignoring ordinary folk.

'SEXUAL ORIENTATION'

The council is even rehousing male wimps who have been beaten up by their wives! According to 'Women's Committee' chairwoman Liz Davies, the council will rehouse ''lesbians and gay men who suffer abuse due to sexual orientation and men who are escaping domestic violence.''

The same council recently gave a lesbian group a grant to buy gym-mats for a self defence course. In common with all other councils in Britain, Islington operates a policy of rehousing 'victims of racial abuse' — providing, of course, that they are not white.

ERADICATED

It seems that the recent scientific discovery of the gene which causes homosexuality has come not a moment too soon — if queers can be genetically eradicated it will save rate-payers a massive housing bill!

In the meantime, our sympathies go out to those ordinary, decent tenants who will have queers as neighbours. The perverts will be carrying out their revolting practices in neighbourhoods where children live, and many parents will be angry that Labour is putting children in danger for political reasons.

Britain's Police: Just whose side are they on?

Britain's police force is supposed to be politically neutral. Some Nationalists are even under the illusion that the boys in blue are basically 'patriotic' and sympathetic to our cause. But in a number of recent cases this view has proved to be sadly mistaken.

At the end of January a pro-IRA March by anti-British leftists was allowed to take place along a prestigious route right in the heart of Central London.

BRITISH PATRIOTS

But when a substantial body of clean cut British patriots numbering quite a few hundred, and well in tune with the views the bulk of Britain's general public, got together to mount a counter demonstration along the line of the march, nearly all were rounded up in a massive and highly expensive police operation. They were bundled aboard a fleet of buses apparently brought in for the purpose, and dispersed to police stations all over London for the rest of the day, so that the IRA supporters could march with a minimum of opposition.

In the event, about fifty BNP folk managed to evade the police and maintained a barrage of heckling along the length of the communists' shuffle.

It is thought that this drastic procedure by the police may have been against the law. The matter is in fact currently the subject of possible legal action.

PUBLIC ORDER

Senior officers claimed that the operation was necessary to "preserve public order."

Perhaps the acid test of this claim was what happened in a second march, this time mounted by Nationalists in April, once again in central London, in order to call for effective government action to smash the IRA in the aftermath of the Warrington bombing in which two children were slaughtered.

A certain amount of opposition to this march was also in evidence. It was largely made up of pro-IRA and anti-British elements ranging from scruffy anarchists squatters to inner city-ghetto criminals.

But on this occasion the police did not act to ensure that the marchers against the IRA got their rights to freedom of public expression in the way that they had done in the case of the pro-IRA demonstrators.

They claimed here, too, that their main concern was to uphold 'public order'. But now that it was a case of British patriots wanting to march, their way of going about it was quite different.

OPPOSITION RABBLE

The opposition rabble was not rounded up. There were no busses on hand to drive them off to police stations out of harm's way. Nor were the rights of the anti-IRA marchers to make their point in the effective public manner given the special protection enjoyed by the pro-IRA marchers a couple of months before. On the contrary, the left-wing mob was allowed to mill around the streets threatening and attacking pretty much at will anyone who looked as if they might be sympathisers with the march. Meanwhile, the top cops used the presence of the mob as an excuse to shunt the anti-I.R.A march into a back street and cut it short.

Since then the Metropolitan police has done its standing with the decent public little good by the way its high-ups allowed an 'anti-racist' mob from well outside the area to invade Welling and take the town apart.

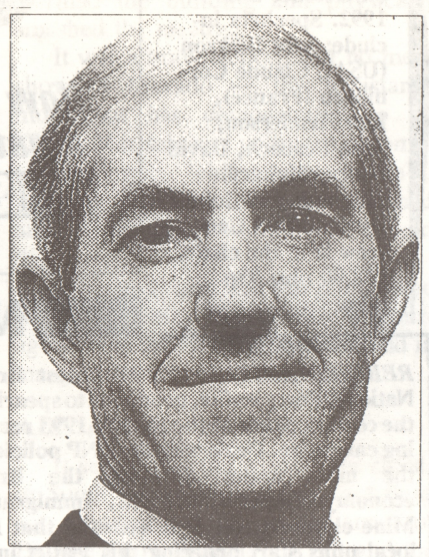
One senior officer was heckled loudly by angry residents of the south London suburb at a meeting of protest the following week. He had tried to tell some of the victims who had been attacked, or had their property vandalised, that this was the "price to be paid for democracy."

Would he say the same if a white mob had stormed through an area of London mainly inhabited by blacks or Asians? Most of those at the meeting doubted it.

DISTURBANCE

When taxed about the lack of arrests during the disturbance the same officer said it was "modern police practice" not to arrest rioters. This, too, was not a crowd-pleaser. Members of the audience pointed out that police don't hesitate to go in against white football hooligans, so why not against 'black power' hooligans as well?

Although ordinary rank and file constables are becoming increasingly politicised and propagandised by the 'politically correct' teachings of their masters, it is clearly the case that most of the rot is among the senior ranks.



METROPOLITAN Police Commissioner Paul Condon is a perfect example of the new-style 'political policeman'. Politically Correct in every way, his first public engagement on taking up his post was to speak at a 'racial equality' brain-washing seminar

A number of rank and file police officers have privately voiced their concerns to British Nationalist about the way the police service in London is going, including the way that their bosses have handled some of the above incidents.

EVEN-HANDED

What is wanted is a police force dedicated to enforcing even-handed law and order in the interests of all — not a police force run by senior officers who are little better than left-wing politicians in uniform dedicated to enforcing 'political correctness'.

Under the present regime of leftist and 'liberal' Chief Constables, with their 'sensitive' policing (i.e. non-policing) of certain ghetto areas and soft approach to crime, it is no wonder the public are increasingly losing confidence in the forces of law and order.

THE ASIANS WHO GAVE £1MILLION TO TORIES

How the Establishment parties are bankrolled by secret donations from alien businessmen

IT IS NOW public knowledge that fugitive Turkish businessman Asil Nadir secretly gave £440,000 to the Conservative Party. But Nadir's gift represents only the tip of the iceberg of alien funding enjoyed by the Establishment parties

ASIAN DONATIONS

According to a report in the Observer (27 June 1993), Britain's Asian businessmen donated at least £1m to the Tory Party's 1992 General Election campaign. Most of it came from a small group of extremely wealthy donors, including the Hindujas, Britain's richest Asian family. The Observer report stated:

> "The Tories are working hard to win more Asian votes and wallets. The One Nation Forum, set up to win support among ethnic minorities, holds regular meetings attended by Ministers and party fund-raisers."

In December 1991 John Major hosted a Downing Street dinner for prominent Asians. Guests included an array of Asian multi-millionaires with total assets of £1.5billion, notably the head of United Breweries Vijay Mallya and Naresh Patel, owner of Europe Foods. Also present was Tory candidate Narindar Saroop, who runs the Durbar Club which raised the money for the Tories' Central Office computer.

LAVISH PARTY

Earlier the same month, The Hinduja brothers threw a lavish Hindu 'Diwali' party for 1,400 guests. The guests included Douglas Hurd, Chris Patten, Edward Heath, Cecil Parkinson, Neil Kinnock and Sir David Steel.

The Tories receive huge amounts of cash from wealthy foreigners. Octav Botnar, former chairman of Nissan UK, gave the Conservatives between £100,000 and £150,000 during Margaret Thatcher's leadership. Botnar also sponsored four Tory Savoy Hotel lunches to the tune of £40,000. He has since fled to Switzerland following tax fraud charges, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Botnar's colleague at Nissan UK, Managing Director Michael Hunt, was last month convicted on fraud charges relating to the same case, in which £56m was stolen from the Inland Revenue. It was the biggest tax fraud case in British history.

The Conservatives received "substantial sums" from Hong Kong's richest man, Li Ka Shing, according to his UK spokesman Lord Derwent. But he claimed the figure was "well below" newspaper claims of £1m.

The facts outlined above raise serious questions about the financing of Britain's ruling party.

Firstly, there are the unsavoury backgrounds of individual donors to the Tories, many of whom have subsequently become convicted criminals or fugitives from justice.

Secondly, there is the question of why a party supposedly trying to boost Britain's industry is being funded by the head of a Japanese car firm.

Thirdly, does the huge cash gift from a Hong Kong businessman have a bearing on the numbers of HK 'refugees' who are about to be allowed to swarm into Britain?

SECRECY

Finally, why are the donations from foreigners being made in such secrecy? The Tories are known to have set up a number of front companies to launder cash donated by foreigners. These include 'British United Industrialists' and the 'Conservative Industrial Fund' which was supported by Asil Nadir.

The Conservatives will naturally do their best to avoid giving answers to these questions. We think it is time the public were told the truth.

PRAKESH Hinduja catches the ear of Tory fixer Cecil Parkinson at a fund-raising bash

LABOUR FUNDED BY ALIEN 'MAXWELL'

WITH their usual hypocrisy, Labour politicians are loudly bemoaning the dodgy funds pouring into the Tory Party. But we can reveal that the Tories are not the only Establishment outfit accepting such donations. The late, unlamented 'Robert Maxwell' (a.k.a. Jan Ludwik Hoch), seen here hob-nobbing with Neil Kinnock (left), gave Labour a gift of £31,000 in 1986. Herr 'Maxwell' was later accused of defrauding his employees out of pension fund money worth millions.

OUTRAGE AS TORIES BRIBE RIOT ESTATE

BROADWATER Farm estate was the scene of savage race-rioting in 1985, during which PC Keith Blakelock was savagely murdered. His head was hacked off by a machete-wielding gang.

Since the riots, the Tory Government has chosen to throw millions of pounds worth of taxpayers' money into the estate, in a massive bribe to buy off further trouble.

BROADWATER Farm has been rewarded for riot and murder with millions of pounds worth of state aid, while less favoured estates fall into ruin. This is typical of the Tory government's order of priorities

Grants of almost £50 million have been lavished on the estate — the equivalent of £50,000 for each household there.

OUTRAGE

The bulk of the money is a £33 million 'aid package' announced by the Government and greeted with outrage by white communities across London and nationwide.

In Glasgow, numerous white estates desperately need funding to raise the standard of basic accommodation. In Newcastle, the council's housing officers complained that they had applied twice for Government funding, but were rejected.

SPECIAL TREATMENT

Many whites feel that Broadwater Farm is getting special treatment because of the race-riots. The estate is still largely a 'no-go' area for whites.

And the money is still pouring in. According to the Government's own figures, a further £5.4 million has already been provided under the Estate Action Programme. A further £11.2 million had been dished out to the estate up to December 1991, mainly on building repairs.

Tottenham's Labour MP Bernie Grant denied the money was a result of the estate's 'reputation'. But many whites believe that the Farm has been swamped with cash because the riots were an embarrassing demonstration of the failure of multi-racialism.

EXTERMINATE

Instead of sending the Army in to exterminate the rioters, the Tories chose the soft option of financial bribery. In other words, the rioters were 'rewarded' for their criminality with a huge cash bonus, so that they now live in luxury. With such an insane policy it is no wonder law and order has collapsed.

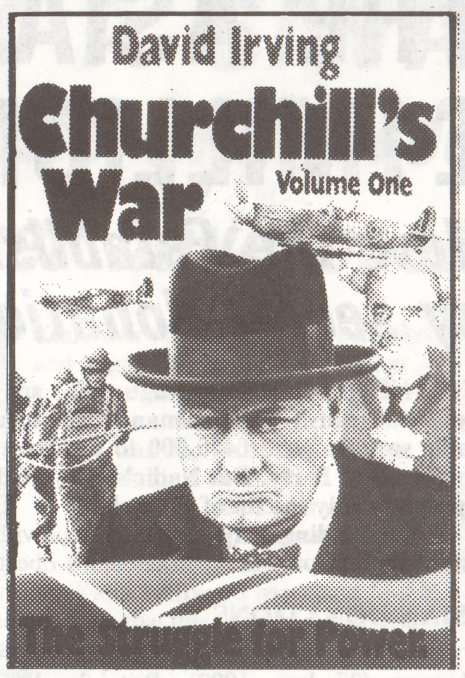
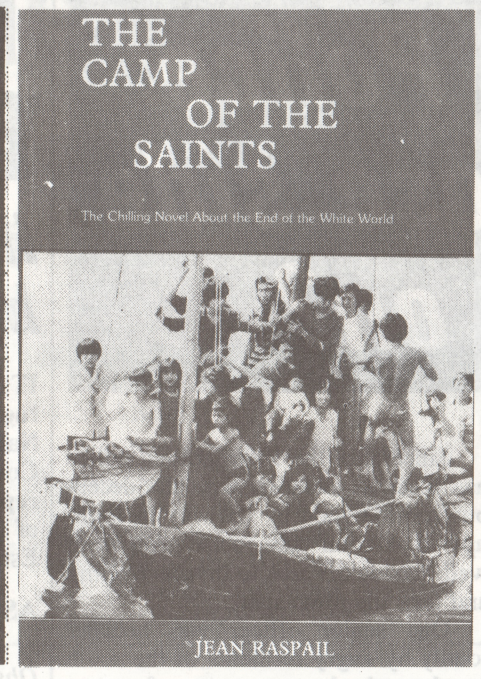
BOOKS



CHURCHILL'S WAR (by David Irving). The highly controversial story of Britain's World War II leader during the late pre-war and wartime years. The writer's theme is that Churchill was the man whose war policy ruined Britain and the British Empire. £16.95 plus £2.12 p&p.



CAMP OF THE SAINTS (by Jean Raspail). This sensational novel deals with an Asian invasion of Europe by means of boat landings of millions in France. The story is an horrific picture of what could happen in the future if present 'open-door' policies continue. £5.00 plus 66p p&p.

THE ZIONIST CONNECTION (by Alfred Lilienthal). A sensational and courageous exposure of Zionist power politics by a non-Zionist Jew, this book will open the eyes of many to the methods by which Zionist pressure groups operate. £13.00 plus £1.62 p&p.

NEW BOOKLET

THE ENEMY WITHIN: The latest booklet published by the British National Party, this consists of the text of a letter of complaint to the Broadcasting Complaints Commission following the Public Eye programme on the party in January. The Commission refused to consider the complaint on the ludicrous grounds that it was lodged 'out of time' (actually less than five months after the programme). The booklet, although it deals only with one specific TV programme, highlights the kind of lying and brainwashing techniques that are typical of television and the mass media generally. The Enemy Within is a good item to give out to people who sympathise with the political objectives of the BNP but believe the media smears they have heard about the party. 30p plus 18p p&p.

NEW LEAFLET

REBUILD BRITAIN NOW! Latest British National Party leaflet, produced to spearhead the coming phase of the party's 1993 recruiting campaign. Deals with the BNP policies on the main issues affecting the British economy: Imports, the EC, Immigration, Mine closures, etc. It is essential that BNP local units start ordering this leaflet in big quantities and begin mass-distribution of the leaflet — NOW! £4.50 per 1,000 plus postage charges of £4.10 for 1,000 and £4.65 for 2,000.

REBUILD BRITAIN NOW!
BNP
Only the British National Party can rebuild British industry and restore full employment
Only the BNP will bring in selective import controls to protect our industries — just as the Japanese do
Only the BNP will put an end to Third World immigration, which increases the number of people competing for British jobs
Only the BNP will get Britain out of the European Community, which opens the door to European imports
Only the BNP will open more coal mines instead of closing them — the BNP will make Britain totally self-sufficient in energy production
Only the BNP will back British farmers and fishermen — the BNP will institute a 200-mile limit to protect our fishing fleet from the encroachments of foreign trawlers
Only the BNP will supply the massive investment needed to rebuild our lost manufacturing industries
None of the old parties can provide the leadership that Britain needs. Get Britain back to work — join the BNP now!

BNP ambassador goes to France

A meeting of the Alpes-Maritimes section of the French National Front was held on the 11th of June last, at the Campanile Hotel, on the famous Promenade des Anglais, in Nice.

Dr Donald Clarke was a guest speaker, representing the British National Party. When he rose to convey our greetings to his hosts, it at first seemed that he would get no further than "Le BNP et son chef John Tyndall," so long and loud were the cheers, the thumping of fists on the tables and the stamping of feet on the floor, all to be resumed once his message was received."

The occasion had to do with the promotion of the Front's own daily newspaper, Présent, the only paper where the Party can proclaim what it believes, undistorted, and report its activities accurately. How well we understand!

SPECIAL INTEREST

Jean-Pierre Ghost, Jean Madiran, Georges-Paul Wagner and Alain Sanders, of the editorial staff, in turn explained their needs and plans, emphasising how important it was to finance their project independently of revenue from commercial advertisement and free of the power that media piper-payers wield.

Dinner and speeches were followed by informal discussion of problems we and they confront. Of special interest was the anxiety that many French patriots feel, in and outside the National Front, lest Britain serve as a convenient springboard for hundreds of thousands of non-whites into Europe as a whole and into France in particular, now that passport controls have been relaxed. As one young activist remarked, while all eyes focus on Mediterranean shores, a steady infiltration of non-whites from Britain to French Channel ports presents an almost equal risk to the identity of race and culture they have sworn to defend.

The meeting was as instructive and helpful as it was heart-warming. Dr Clark admits that he overmuch enjoyed the food that was served but found that the wine improved his French!

Dr Donald Clarke (above), one of the BNP's foremost intellectuals and a former parliamentary candidate, attended a meeting of the French National Front on behalf of the British National Party. The French nationalists welcomed him with a standing ovation.

Clarendon Club one, ANAL nil!

EYE WITNESS REPORT BY 'MIDLANDER'

Despite frantic efforts by the violent criminals of the Anti-Nazi League, Britain's top historian David Irving was able to go ahead with his Clarendon Club meeting and a great time was had by everyone present.

OCCUPIED

On the evening of Friday, 18th June, I arrived at the Old Ship Hotel to find the public bar already occupied by a bunch of desperate-looking marxists. I met my nationalist colleagues and we went to Pevensey Bay where we spent the night under canvass.

On Saturday, 19th, the criminal mob assembled in Churchill Square before marching without prior notice under the public order act to Brighton Rail Station, where they harassed ordinary members of the public and holiday makers.

The police boxed them in while members of various nationalist groups made their way to a hotel at Hove to hear speeches by David Irving and guest speaker Günter Deckert, of the German NDP.

ENTHUSIASM

The meeting came to an end in great enthusiasm, and while most people made their way home, some went to a local restaurant for a meal and others went back to the camp site at Pevensey Bay.

OFFICERS, ACTIVISTS, AND MEMBERS EDUCATION AND TRAINING SEMINAR CENTRAL LONDON THURSDAY EVENING 12TH AUGUST 1993

SUBJECT:- Political Strategy and tactics
SPEAKERS:- Richard Edmonds and Eddy Butler
Contact your local organiser or ring 081-316-4721 nearer the date for details.

The first seminar addressed by John Tyndall on the topic of leadership was a great success and was of considerable benefit to all who attended. It is hoped to hold regular seminars on a variety of subjects to do with political organisation and leadership. Organisers should make every effort to attend. Make sure you come to the second monthly seminar.

The seminars mentioned above are part of a programme now being mounted by the British National Party for the purpose of the training of its activists in political education and organisational techniques. It is intended soon to spread the London training programme throughout the country.

MORE ACTION IN THE NORTH-EAST

Despite vicious communist intimidation the Geordie boys step up their BNP activities

THE NORTH-EAST is proving to be fertile ground for the British National Party — much to the dismay of the local Establishment.

BNP units have been tirelessly spreading the nationalist message in Gateshead, Durham, Darlington and other areas throughout the region. But the various communist groups are falling over themselves to jump on the 'anti-racist' bandwagon in response to the growth in support for the BNP.

Labour councils on Tyneside are now putting their local marxist layabouts on the payroll in a desperate bid to staunch the flow of support for the BNP.

ANAL has had its nose put out of joint by the creation of a rival group calling itself the 'Tyne and Wear Anti-Fascist Action' (TWAFA).

THE BNP's Day of Action in Darlington (above) was warmly welcomed by members of the public, and copies of the Party newspaper were sold like hot cakes. A similar event in Durham (below) took place a couple of weeks after 'Twafa' claimed to have 'smashed' the BNP's Durham unit!

The two activities pictured here demonstrate the high quality of recruits, which the BNP is now attracting: Well disciplined, smartly dressed and highly motivated, the units concerned are winning the respect of the public.

BNP units are increasingly adopting a 'multiple-strike' strategy, by which three or more town centres are targeted for shorter paper sales, rather than staying in one area for an entire afternoon. This is because ninety per cent of the impact of a paper sale is gained from the BNP simply being there, so that after the first hour or so the law of diminishing returns applies. There is also an obvious security advantage in not remaining 'static' for too long.

PUBLICLY FUNDED

According to Newcastle's Journal,

> ''Twafa is the only publicly funded anti-fascist (sic) group in Europe, supported by the five Tyne and Wear councils.''

How revealing! In other words, Labour councillors are paying their left-wing chums huge sums of ratepayers' money to engage in communist-style agitation. No wonder the reds are able to mobilise their gangs of thugs to attack the BNP — their activities are being sponsored with ratepayers' money donated by extreme left-wing councils! BN has clear evidence that 'TWAFA' is directly involved in racial attacks against the BNP. On Saturday, 15th May, a small group of activists from the BNP's Durham unit were enjoying a well-earned pint in a town-centre pub following a successful Day of Action. Shortly after 2pm an armed mob of about fifty drugged-up thugs descended on the pub and physically attacked the half-dozen BNP men. The BNP unit put up a stout defence, driving the TWAFA thugs back into the street outside.

PROVOCATION

By this time, the police had arrived, and the red criminals were moved on. It is to the credit of the BNP activists that their actions stayed within the law despite immense provocation from the marxist thugs.

The BNP of course does not seek to provoke street confrontations with red reactionaries, and contrary to Establishment media propaganda does not relish the prospect of violence. We are a serious political party, not a street-gang, and this point has been demonstrated by the BNP's continuing policy of working within the law.

It is significant that on the same day that Labour-sponsored thugs were attempting to disrupt the BNP activity in Durham, a Day of Action in nearby Darlington was warmly welcomed by members of the public. Copies of British Nationalist were being sold like hot cakes.

The only 'anti-racists' on Tyneside are the tiny band of marxist reactionaries who are being paid to run 'TWAFA' and ANAL.

A 'mass-rally' against the BNP in Durham, jointly organised by the two groups and paid for by the local council, managed to attract barely forty people, who were heckled and booed by ordinary members of the public.

ANTI-BNP FLOP

The ANAL organiser responsible for the anti-BNP flop whined to the press: ''It was never intended to be a mass rally.'' Yet that was precisely what was intended, according to the reds' own leaflets!

What is really winding up the left-wing Establishment is the fact that the BNP is winning recruits from traditionally Labour-supporting areas.

There is every sign that ordinary British people in the North East, as in the rest of Britain, are increasingly turning to the BNP as an alternative to the discredited Establishment parties.

DAY OF ACTION

This was the message received during the BNP's excellent Day of Action in Durham on June 5th.

A record number of copies of BN were sold, and members of the public repeatedly congratulated the sales team for flying the British flag in Durham.

The BNP's present level of high-profile activities in the North East is already winning the respect of the public, and increasing panic on the part of the Establishment.

The Geordie lads have proved that they will not be intimidated by the violence of 'TWAFA', ANAL or any other left-wing gangsters. The violent attacks carried out by Labour-sponsored thugs merely underline the fact that the left has lost the political argument; it is the BNP which occupies the 'moral high ground'.

B.N.P. ORGANISERS' CONFERENCE

ON SATURDAY 10th July, the British National Party held its biggest ever Organiser's Conference, to discuss the Party's future strategy for winning power. The meeting was chaired by BN Editor John Morse.

NEW CAMPAIGN

National Elections Officer Eddy Butler began by outlining the new campaign against unemployment, which is described in more detail in the article on this page.

This was followed by Dave Bruce's talk on how to handle the media — an increasingly important matter now that the Party is attracting regular attention from the press and television.

INTERVIEWED

Dave described how he was recently interviewed for the BBC television programme 'Heart of the Matter'. He stressed that the important thing in media interviews was to 'be yourself', and to think carefully when answering questions.

Dave pointed out that not all journalists are automatically hostile to the BNP — indeed, a small number may be secretly sympathetic. Party spokesmen should therefore avoid a 'combatative' approach, and be polite at all times, even when the journalist does appear hostile.

STRAIGHTFORWARD

Most BNP supporters agree that Dave Bruce came across very well in his recent television appearance, and Dave puts this down to an honest and straightforward approach.

Eddy Butler then took the floor again to talk about the coming series of Education seminars to be held in London, and the BNP's future election strategy.

INCREASING

Eddy explained that as the Party was now gaining new units at a steadily increasing rate, it was important that new local leaders attended the seminars, which will give detailed advice on a wide range of essential political techniques.

Eddy then discussed election techniques. There were, he said, three important stages in fighting elections. Firstly, and most importantly, it is essential to canvas door-to-door. This is far more important than leafleting. Too many units were simply leafleting their constituencies and then doing a small amount of canvassing if they had time at the end of the campaign.

Eddy pointed out how door-to-door canvassing could be carried out in the form of a paper sale, which would have the advantage that a regular 'paper-round' could be built up. When election time came, regular purchasers of BN and Spearhead could be visited and reminded to vote BNP.

LOCAL ISSUES

He also noted the need to focus on local issues, such as campaigning for equal rights for whites in housing and jobs. Finally, Eddy recommended that where possible, a campaign should be rounded off with a Day of Action. He added that eighty per cent of the impact of a DOA was simply the presence of the BNP in the locality. It was therefore more useful to do a series of short activities in three or four localities in a single afternoon rather than spend several hours in the same location.

National Activities Organiser Richard Edmonds also stressed the need for more canvassing and door-to-door paper-sales. He pointed out that with average turnouts of only twenty-five per cent, council seats could be won with just ten per cent of the total electorate voting BNP.

Richard stressed the BNP's flexible policy on national activities, which would take the form of formal or informal activities where the situation dictated.

Finally, Party Chairman John Tyndall gave a rousing address on the theme: The Road To Victory.

Mr Tyndall told the 100-strong audience that the BNP was now entering the fourth and crucial stage of its growth.

From being a tiny fringe group, the Party was now establishing itself as a serious contender in elections. It was therefore all the more important, he said, that leading activists continued to conduct themselves in a disciplined and serious manner. The BNP is not a street gang, but a serious political party.

John Tyndall concluded that in all his years in politics, he had never experienced a more favourable political climate for nationalism to flourish. The BNP is now truly on the road to victory.

B.N.P. CAMPAIGNS FOR BRITISH JOBS

New leaflet outlines plan for full employment

AS ANNOUNCED some weeks ago, the British National Party's 'Join Us' leaflet is to give way to a new campaign leaflet on the subject of unemployment.

The 'Join Us' campaign was the most successful recruitment drive in the ten-year history of the BNP, and resulted in a flood of membership enquiries. Many of those new members have gone on to form successful BNP units in their own localities.

It is important, however, that the Party should continually refresh its campaign themes to avoid its publicity becoming 'stale', and to reflect public concern on particular issues which force themselves onto the political agenda.

ADDRESSED

One such issue which must be addressed by any serious political party is that of unemployment.

The official number of jobless now stands at around three million, though of course the real figure is far higher — some economists estimate around four and a half million.

Unemployment is therefore of very real concern to most people, whether they are unemployed themselves or whether they face the danger of losing their jobs in the near future. It is essential that the BNP explains its policy for full employment, so that the public know exactly where we stand on this vital issue.

The new leaflet clearly explains how the British National Party will restore full employment, with positive measures to boost the economy and jobs market.

The economy will be regenerated by strict import controls to prevent the flood of cheap, inferior goods from the Far East.

Ending third world immigration will greatly reduce the numbers competing for British jobs. Indeed, it can truthfully be said that if we introduced repatriation immediately, this measure alone would wipe out unemployment overnight.

By setting out clearly and briefly our package of measures for creating jobs, the public will be able to compare our positive proposals for economic common sense with the pathetic performance of the old parties.

See page six for details of how to obtain the new leaflet.

THE NEW Campaign leaflet (right) is designed to highlight the causes of unemployment and suggests how the British National Party will create jobs

REBUILD BRITAIN NOW!

Only the British National Party can rebuild British industry and restore full employment

- Only the BNP will bring in selective import controls to protect our industries — just as the Japanese do
- Only the BNP will put an end to Third World immigration, which increases the number of people competing for British jobs
- Only the BNP will get Britain out of the European Community, which opens the door to European imports

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the Common Market
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum possible self-sufficiency in food production.
- Rejection of both the poll tax and its substitute, the new `property tax', and a return to the old rates system, though with fairer rebates allowing for differences in income and in the numbers occupying properties.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of `trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO, closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain, the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, the termination of the Anglo-Irish Agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- Repeal of the laws permitting homosexuality and abortion (except where the latter is the result of rape or necessary on medical grounds), the wiping out of AIDS and a return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
